Time: 0900 – 1030hrs

Track 1A:

Population Health: What Does it Mean for Providers, Patients and Residents

Track Synopsis:

How can people who live with long term conditions be better prepared to have meaningful strengths-based conversations during their consultations with their doctors, and feel supported between clinic visits to self-manage?

Personalised Care and Support Planning (PCSP) is a systematic process and practice that offers the opportunity of an equal partnership approach between professionals and residents living with long term conditions. It recognises the primacy of residents in their decision making about what matters to them. As they plan their actions to achieve care goals made with them based on their abilities and the community support around them, it gives them the confidence to live well with their long term conditions. Purposeful investment in a system-based support of PCSP has been shown to transform the value and effectiveness of care.

This session will start with a presentation by speakers from Year of Care Partnerships under NHS UK on the principles of the PCSP approach, followed by sharing by local practitioners on preparing and involving residents in their care at the clinic, and the importance of building community based support. We will round up the session with a dynamic panel discussion with representatives from NHG, NUHS and SingHealth to expound on what population health means for us as providers and residents.

Beyond Information towards Transformation through enabling Therapeutic Patient Education (TPE)

Track Synopsis:

Effective patient education goes beyond handing out standard patient information leaflets. Therapeutic Patient Education (TPE) as defined by World Health Organisation (WHO) is education that helps patients acquire or maintain the competencies they need to manage as well as possible their lives with a chronic disease. It is an integral part and continuing part of patient care. It is education that aims to transform the lives of patients and their families living with chronic diseases.

This track will describe the Past, Present and the Future of TPE in NHG with a focus in diabetes care, starting with the Past – what education was prior to NHG DM School; the Present – the NHG DM School Project which started in March 2020 by the NHG DM Education Workgroup under the remit of the NHG Diabetes and Metabolic Steering Committee and moving into the Future – the roadmap ahead.

Palliative Care: Staying on Course and the Journey Ahead

Track Synopsis:

It has been a rollercoaster of uncertainty during the pandemic for everyone and particularly challenging for palliative care field which strives to provide comfort and support for patients and families. In this track, we would like to show case the diverse and collaborative work with various stakeholders on embracing the challenges while we move forward with the endemic.

First part, we will share how hospital-based palliative care team ventured into National Centre of Infectious Disease (NCID) in identifying the needs of the severely symptomatic Covid-19 patients and how community team from Project CARE navigated through multiple outbreaks and restrictions while providing end of life care in nursing homes.

Next, our young and inspiring clinicians will share what truly matters for our patients and their nominated spokespersons while conducting goals of care conversations during turbulent times and not forgetting the importance of reflection through movie to process the complexity of emotions working in palliative care unit.
